

The Garden Of Abdul Gasazi

Fritz`s story

As I was walking through a giant garden, a weird man came up to me in a loud voice “Who`s dog are you”. Then he looked at my collar and it read out “Miss Hester!” “Anyway your coming with me” he said in angry voice. I tried to jump out of his arms but he put a net around me and I got strangled up and I was stuck. I tried to bite him but he put a muzzle around me. He brought me into a large dark room. He took out a long black stick and pointed it out me and said some funny words, before long I was quacking instead of barking. I was a duck! Then I saw Alan. I flew over to him and started quacking at him. Suddenly a big gust of wind came and Alan`s hat blew off. I raced after the hat and I finally got it. Then I lost my mind and flew away, I noticed miss Hester`s house in the distance and I flew down to her house and when I touched the ground, I turned into a dog. I hit the door and Miss Hester opened the door and I went in.
